FROM THE EDITOR

Don't you hate it when you walk around and around in circles only to end up in the same place? I do, and it sometimes feels like that's exactly what happens to me during winter. Go to work: be cold. Go outside: be cold. Go home: be cold. So if anyone is ailed with cold-weather-induced perpetual lethargy like me, the arrival of September and its subsequent improvement of weather will be a welcome one. And there is no stopping its arrival: the weather knows where it's going. It has a sense of direction.

This is all well and good, but I can't say that I share this attribute with the weather. We may both be temperamental but my sense of direction is severely lacking, which became apparent to me the last time I ventured to a shopping centre by myself.

A few weeks ago, my sister requested that I go to Coles at a Westfield shopping centre nearby because it allegedly had some special type of curry paste that no other Coles stocked. I obliged. After failing to locate the curry paste in question (due to a small 'lack-of-existence' issue), I was confronted by a boy worker at the self-checkout area who for some reason was gripped by the notion that I might want one of his plastic action figures. No, I didn't. Yes, I was sure. Goodbye. Oh look, he's back. Did I want him to give them to someone else? Did I want him to scribble it off my receipt? I didn't really care what he did with them or my receipt, but by that point my confusion had well and truly peaked. I eventually obtained enough information to gather that there was a 'spend-$30-or-more-and-you-get-a-free-useless-plastic-person' deal. Tempting.

I exited with shopping bags in-hand and wits not-about. It seemed to me that the exit was a completely different location to the entrance. Feeling lost, I followed some people going up an escalator to my right, which landed me in the food court and no closer to the carpark. After walking through the centre for some time, I somehow ended up at the same exit of Coles again. I put my bags on the floor in despair and at that moment my boyfriend, who had just spent the past eight weeks out-field without a phone, called me.

I used this opportunity to express my frustration in the form of strongly worded expletives and explosive hand movements that would otherwise have been unacceptable to perform in the middle of a shopping centre outside Coles. A nice 'welcome back to civilisation' message.

After getting off the phone I ended up doing one more lap of the centre before arriving at the exit of Coles for the third and final time. I stomped inside with the intention of locating the entrance and finding my way out from there. I strode past the self-checkout and made eye contact with action figure boy, who looked somewhat confused. I reached the entrance gates, which had printed on them the words 'emergency exit only'. By this point I had reached a point of desperation, and so as an elderly couple walked in through the gates, I walked out through them, at which point the gates abruptly closed, hit me in a rather uncomfortable area, and the alarm went off.

Only as I was walking away from the screaming entrance gates did I realise that had I simply walked about 20 metres to my left at the exit, I would have ended up at the same spot.

So, basically, if anyone tries to tell you that there is a special type of curry paste with no oil and no sugar that can only be found at a special Coles inside a shopping centre, don't be fooled. Don't go there. Spring has arrived; it's time to start spending more time outside anyway.

Rest in Peace

To the families and friends of those who have lost loved ones in Garfield and surrounds in July, we offer our sympathy and support at this sad time..

Cannibal Creek Funeral Celebrancy

At that time of grief and sadness we all need someone to relieve some of the burden associated with a funeral. I am a local Garfield resident but also work across the Melbourne metropolitan area.

I have been helping families with funeral celebrancy for over 10 years. I customise every service to genuinely celebrate the life of a loved one.

Every service is different because every person is different. I can provide expert advice on all aspects of the funeral service and how it can best honour your loved one. I also specialise in police and military funerals.

If you are in that unenviable situation where you believe that you may need the services of a funeral celebrant in the near future, I am available at any time to provide free advice and to answer any questions you may have regarding the funeral process for when that difficult time arrives. It makes good sense to be prepared for such an emotional journey. You are assured of compassion, understanding and support.

PART TWO OF THE HOLIDAY TRIP (or: the medical emergencies catalogue)

By Linda Evans

So, the latter part of my holiday involved much use of the National Health Service. Firstly my 43-year-old niece who has special needs spent nine hours in ED after intermittent days of abdominal pain, eventually being diagnosed with diverticulitis. She already had dietary issues being a very strict vegan and couldn't really understand further restrictions.

Three days later I was supposed to go away to Wiltshire with my sister to catch up with 2nd, 3rd and 4th cousins but Carol didn't feel she could leave Emma home with her dad. It was decided that Tony (brother-in-law) would go away with me, fortunately I had booked a twin room in the motel, but I can tell you it was really weird, particularly as he had to wear Carol's floral pyjama pants because he couldn't find his own. It was a lovely couple of days, even catching up with my old next-door neighbour who now lives in that part of the world.

Four days before I was due to come home I had severe chest pains on left side of my chest. Was it a punctured lung? A collapsed lung? Broken ribs? It hurt so much to try and breathe, so an ambulance was called. They were marvellous people, did ECG, listened to my chest several times and decided I wasn't about to drop dead. They gave me massive doses of pain killers and by the time they left after about 90 minutes, I was vaguely normal again.

Feeling better the next day, I decided to have a bath, only to get stuck, with the door locked!

Naturally the bottom of the bath was slippery—it was also knobbly to prevent slipping, but when I tried to kneel on it, it hurt too much. Carol's neighbour who is a retired district nurse suggested I put a towel round the taps and try to pull myself up that way. Still no luck as the towel was slipping off the taps, which were at one end of the bath as opposed along the side. Plus, it hurt. I eventually pulled the cord from the dressing gown I was borrowing and wound it round the taps several times. I eventually managed to pull myself up without pulling the taps up, only to be heavily chastised by my sister for locking the door. If that hadn't worked it would have been fire brigade through the bathroom window.

I felt awful after all that effort and went to bed even though it was about 4 pm. The following day the pains were back, and this time Carol took me to the hospital ED with the paperwork they had given me from the ambo's visit two days prior.

One look at me at triage desk I was whisked round to a cubicle where blood was taken, drip put up (apparently I was dehydrated), canula put in my hand, chest Xray and CT scan. Shortly I was advised that I had pneumonia and was being admitted. I could not have asked for better care in the acute nursing unit where the ration was two staff to six patients. I was put on two different antibiotics through the drip as well as saline to hydrate me. I was also given blood thinners as I wasn't moving around much at all.

The bruising on the hand was horrendous and was still evident two weeks later. I was discharged from hospital on the day I should have been flying back! On medical advice I was advised to postpone my return trip for 10 – 14 days.

As a result of this I got to spend my 70th birthday on Easter at home with my sister and family rather than back here. It meant I missed out on spending on spending it with my son and granddaughter her, but they sent me flowers, chocolate and champagne.

The last medical disaster was my bro-in-law suffering from an acute bout of constipation and urinary retention. When he had paced the floor for about four hours and swallowed all sorts of preparations and ambulance was called. Once again they were amazing and having checked his blood pressure and bowel sounds, they could reassure him that he didn't have a bowel obstruction. They did a lot of abdominal massaging and after about an hour were ready to take him to ED, particularly in view of his age (79) but at the last minute he said he would go to the bathroom one more time and came down about 20 minutes later with reddened eyes but a smile on his face.

I got to spend two extra weeks with my sister but was still not permitted to return to work for another two weeks when I got back here.

Obviously, holidays don't agree with me, but it gave me the motivation I needed to decide to retire from work.

But guess what, I am going back for Christmas and Tony's 80th birthday on 6th January (twelfth night).

GARFIELD NEWS: BITS AND PIECES

IMPODIMO LIVING & GIVING

Main Street Garfield: how fortunate we are to have a great variety of businesses, from one end of the Street to the other. "Impodimo", the beautiful gift/ home/clothing store at the West (Tynong) end of Garfield is no exception. Owner Christie bought the business nearly 7 years ago and the store has been in Garfield 14 years.

A couple of months ago the adjoining cafe —Little Miss Hangrys—closed its doors and this has impacted Impodimo. People would go to the Cafe then browse through the gift shop. Let's support Impodimo as much as we can. There is a huge variety of lovely items there, suitable for gifts for any occasion, or for your home.

Visit Impodimo at 101 NarNarGoon-Longwarry Road Garfield.

Leaps & Bounds Show - Paul Kelly Tribute Show was the latest group at the theatre on August 12, with an entertaining four-piece band with lead singer.

Even if you weren't a big Paul Kelly fan, enjoying this band was easy, with numbers such as Before too Long; From Little Things, Big Things Grow; How To Make Gravy; and Love Never Runs On Time. Very much enjoyed by the big audience.

Special mention (besides the band, and Peter and Tony who played before, middle and after the show) goes to Garfield local Chris Hooper borrowed Tony's Guitar after the show and sang a great rendition of How To Make Gravy with Peter on Piano. Very special performance.

Thanks yet again to Susie and Fred, and to Peter, Tony and Chris.

For the kids.... "SPEEDY DOG THE JACK RUSSELL TERRIER"

By Tiger Jay

SPEEDYS SPECIAL VISITORS

Book 9

Speedy was enjoying living at her new home with Jenny. She was having lots of new adventures. One day after Speedy had been living at Jenny's for a couple of weeks, they went for a drive back to her old home. When they pulled up in the driveway Speedy recognised the bark of all her old doggy friends and eagerly got out of the car to play with them. All the dogs were pleased to see her and they ran laps of the garden area in excitement. Then the older dogs, Jasmine, Heidi and Kissy, watched Speedy playing tug of war with Jade. Speedy's dad, Jett, had a ball in his mouth that Speedy wanted to play with, but he would only drop it at someone's feet so they could throw it for him. When the ball was thrown Speedy chased after it and tried to grab it too. After a few minutes Speedy went over to say hello to Jeannie and Paul. They each gave her a cuddle and then she played fetch with Paul. Speedy raced up to the chickens and barked at them to tell them she was back for a visit. She also wandered out the back to see Blade, the border collie. After her visit Speedy was so tired she slept all the way home.

One day Speedy was resting inside when she heard a familiar noise. She listened carefully and realised it was coming from the car belonging to Paul and Jeannie. She ran to the door and barked at Jenny to alert her that something very special was happening. As Paul and Jeannie came inside Speedy could not contain her excitement. She jumped up into Paul's arms and wriggled and jiggled and then sprang over to have snuggle with Jeannie. Then she got some of her toys and Paul played tug with her. After lots of cuddles and games it was time for Paul and Jeannie to go home. Speedy leapt into their car and gave them one more quick cuddle each. She hopped out when Jenny called her and watched the car head off down the driveway.

Speedy loved staying in contact with all her old friends, so outings to Speedy's old home or visits from Paul and Jeannie became a regular part of Speedy's life.

FIRST LAND SALES IN THE GARFIELD TOWNSHIP

By Heather Arnold harnold@dcsi.net.au

At 2pm on November 29, 1887, a sale of township allotments in Garfield took place at the Auction rooms of Munro and Baillieu, 40 Collins Street, Melbourne. The 'upset' price was £10 per foot and the purchaser also had to pay survey costs. These allotments were south of the Railway line, running from just west of Thirteen Mile Road and then along to Fourteen Mile Road. According to the Garfield Township Plan the purchasers at this first land sale were: Lot 1: G. Sweet; Lot 2: F. Steed; Lots 3 & 18: M. Ryan; Lot 4: W. Harnwell; Lots 5, 8 & 15: M. Hood; Lots 6 & 11: A. Ritchie; Lot 7: A.E Biggs; Lot 9: J.W Borland; Lots 10 & 16: M. Pasquan; Lot 12: M.I Jones; Lot 13: W.M.K Vale; Lot 14: J. Pearson; Lot 16: Reserved for Police purposes; Lot 17: F.G Hartley and Lot 19: A.E Dangerfield.

In the 1889/1890 Shire of Berwick Rate books—the first year the properties were listed there—we find the ownership of some blocks had already changed hands. I have also listed the Net Annual Value (NAV).

Lot 1 & 2: Martin Ryan. Occupation—publican. NAV £10; Lots 3, 8, 13 & 15: Martin Hood. NAV £20; Lot 4, 5, 9, 16 & 17: Owner—no names listed. NAV £25; Lot 6: Adam Ritchie. Occupation—carrier. NAV £12; Lot 7: William Biggs. NAV £8; Lot 10: Mrs M. Pasquan. NAV £8; Lot 11: William Travers; Rate paid by Robert Amason. NAV £8; Lot 12: Thomas Shipton, tenant. Owner not listed. NAV £8; Lot 14: John Pearson. NAV £8; Lot 15a: Reserved for Police purposes;

Lot 18: Joseph Walker. Occupation—Biscuit maker. NAV £5; Lot 19: A.E. Dangerfield, leased by Michael Lawlor. NAV £8.

Some of the lots, as you can see by the Rate Book entries, above, it appears the Council were not aware of who the owners were. It is possible that they were purchased as a speculative venture and then the owners considered the blocks were not worth paying the rates on.

I have tried to find out some more information about these original land owners from the Rate Books and other sources. Adam Ritchie was a carrier. I assume he was the same Adam Ritchie who was the brother of George and Alexander Ritchie, who owned various parcels of land from Nar Nar Goon to Garfield. His sister, Jane, married Richard Fortune and they lived on Bald Hill Road, Nar Nar Goon. W.M.K Vale is listed as owning not only Lot 13 in Garfield but five different lots in Bunyip. A. E. Dangerfield was an accountant, address Melbourne. W. Harnwell's address was in Little Collins Street; Martin Hood is listed as a 'Gentleman' and his address is also Melbourne.

Martin Pasquan, an original land-owner, sadly, died on November 19, 1888 at the age of 45. His wife, Fanny, then took over the ownership of the block, and as she is the first female land owner in Garfield and held the land until 1902, we will have a closer look at her life. Her occupation in the Rate Books was listed as 'Lady' which belied her real role in life as a publican running various hotels.

Martin Pasquan married Fanny Pascoe on February 13, 1874; she was a 21 year old housemaid and he was the 29 year old publican of the Station Hotel in Footscray.

Martin had been born in Fiume, Hungary to Cosmo and Matilda (nee Matteo) Pasquan and Fanny had been born in Cornwall, England to William and Eliza (nee Thomas) Pascoe. Fiume is now part of Croatia.

They had already had a child before the marriage, Paulina, who was born in 1872 and died the next year aged only 7 months old. Their other children were Martin, 1875-1878; Cosmo, 1877-1879; Maximillian, born 1879; Roberto 1881-1885; Florinda 1886—who died the same year aged 11 months. It really was a tragic time for the family - losing five children as infants and then Martin dying so young.

After Martin left the Station Hotel, he held the licence of the Hotel de Roma on the corner of Brunswick Street and Victoria Parade. The family then moved to the Albion Hotel in Therry Street, Melbourne. The next venture was a restaurant at 148 Little Collins Street, where he supplied between 500 and 600 meals daily. At the time of his death, he was at Pasquan's Hotel, 60 Bourke Street. After his death Fanny took over the licence of their Hotel.

Fanny remarried on July 27, 1889 to Joseph Pasquan. Their marriage certificate lists his age as 30, occupation as a Tobacconist, birth place as Fiume and parents as Martin and Maria Pasquan. Was he Martin's younger brother (there were 16 years age difference) or a cousin or even a nephew?

Joseph and Fanny had one daughter Lorinda (also called Linda), born in 1891. They operated various hotels including the Terminus Hotel in King Street, the Morning Star Hotel in South Yarra, the Commercial Hotel at Wangaratta and in 1909, they took over the Railway Hotel at Warragul. When Fanny Pasquan died on August 21, 1918, at the age of 64, they were at the Parade Hotel in Wellington Street, East Melbourne. Joseph died on August 11, 1935.

Lorinda was a talented singer, who studied singing in Rome under Madame Falchi and was an exponent of all the graces and characteristics of the old world's artists. There are frequent newspaper reports of her concert appearances throughout Victoria - Warragul, Donald, Bacchus Marsh, Mornington, Williamstown, Drysdale and at the Melbourne Town Hall where it was reported that:

Miss Linda Pasquan, who has often delighted Warragul audiences with her singing, was accorded quite a flattering reception at the Melbourne Town Hall recently, at a concert given by the Ragged Boys' Home. It is an honor to be included in a programme performed in the legislative hall of the city, and still more so to receive such a flattering reception and gain an unmistakable encore.

Pasquans Hotel Therry Street

On November 17, 1919 Linda married Thomas William Tyrer at St Francis' Catholic Church in Melbourne. Table Talk reported that:

The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a handsome gown of ivory duchesse satin and georgette, trimmed with Limerick lace. The court train was prettily ornamented with shell pink ninon and orange blossom. An exquisite veil of Limerick lace was worn, with a coronet of silver leaves, and she carried a sheaf of water lilies.

Linda Pasquan

The same month as her marriage, Lorinda had applied for the licence of the Union Club Hotel in Geelong. After Geelong, they had the Terminus Hotel in Tocumwal; then Lorinda held the licence of the Club Hotel in Murtoa, the Golf Club Hotel in Lower Plenty and the Pier Hotel in Port Melbourne. From around 1936 to 1945 the Electoral Rolls show that Lorinda and Thomas lived at 78 Victoria Street in Richmond, and his occupation was listed as a watchmaker. Thomas died November 1, 1945 and Lorinda then lived with their two daughters - Yvonne Lillian and Lorinda Patricia at 148 Barkers Road, Hawthorn. Lorinda (senior) died on January 26, 1964. Interestingly, young Lorinda, known as Lorrie, was a watchmaker. She was interviewed in The Argus in October 1947, when she was 23 and she said that she had began her apprenticeship with her father and after his death took over his Bridge Road business.

Back to Maximillian, born in 1879 and the only surviving child of the marriage of Fanny and Martin. In December 1904, he married Mary Maddern in Melbourne but it was a short-lived marriage as in April 1908, Mary took him to Court suing for maintenance. In her evidence she said that on the day after the marriage he had left and gone to Western Australia where he was until February 1908 when he sent her a telegraph saying meet me at the Ascot Vale Railway Station, prepare for bad news. When they met he said I don't like you anymore. I like somebody else better. The Court ordered him to pay her 10 shillings per week and they divorced in 1911. In 1918 when his mother died he was living in Ponsonby, New Zealand, with his wife Ruby May Elizabeth (nee Raymond) whom he married in 1915. He remained in New Zealand where he died in 1953, aged 74.

Even though Fanny Pasquan never lived in Garfield she deserves to be recognised as the first woman to own land in the town, as a business woman running family hotels and as a woman who overcame the tragic deaths of five of her children.

HIGH TEA FOR FOSTER PARENTS INDONESIA

In August over 100 people including myself attended a beautiful High Tea at the community centre in Garfield organised by Chelsea Hellyer-Blasius and committee, to raise money for Foster Parents Indonesia Inc. Beautiful dressed tables, raffle, silent auction, lovely food, products to buy and a live auction.

A great fundraiser -

Thanks to everyone involved -more than $17,000 raised, and 28 new sponsors for the program. This was the 7th year this event has been held.

—Gwen

Foster Parents Indonesia started in 1980 and since then have spent a lot of time raising money to support the education and wellbeing of children in Indonesia. FPI provide funds each year to pay school and university fees and special projects such as orphanage building repairs. FPI held their 7th annual High Tea last month and raised more than $17,000 and gained 28 new sponsors. This was thanks to the generous attendees who purchased tickets and spent their hard-earned money on the day. FPI are currently in Indonesia visiting our orphanages and projects. Check out our FB page to follow our progress.

GARFIELD PROBUS CLUB

The Club is saddened with the loss of our dear Member Nettie Bron. Deepest Sympathy to her Husband Bert and his Family. Nettie enjoyed being around people and had a smile that was delightful with a cheeky grin, often surprising us with her sense of humour. Nice memories of lovely lady who is now at rest.

Once a year we hold a Fundraising Luncheon for a local Charity. Olivia's Place which is based in Drouin and offers support during pregnancy and parenting in the first year of a child's life was our choice this year. After having lunch the Operations Manager, Pheba Daniel spoke about the organisation and what services they provide. It started in 2012 and is committed to supporting families through the highs and lows of pregnancy and after the baby is born. They support families all across Gippsland from the Baw Baw Shire to Bass Coast, Latrobe Valley, and East/ South Gippsland, helping families experiencing hardship including financial and psychological stress as they navigate their pregnancy and the birth of their baby. They also have an op-shop called Little Livvy's Place where you can buy all kinds of baby goods such as cots, prams, car seats and clothing for babies. Most of these have been kindly donated. Inquiries are most welcome and they can be contacted on 0356 221 022 for anybody who needs support during these times. Our President at the end of the afternoon presented Olivia's Place Manager Pheba with a cheque for $1,579 that was raised by the Members on the day after she thanked the Club for the Donation which will help them to continue supporting parents and babies. A big thank you to all who helped in any way on the day.

Peter Ronald gave a talk about volunteering in Uganda and Zimbabwe. Because many of the poorest people in the world are farmers, the aim is to improve their livelihoods in a practical way. Sadly poor crop yields and crop failures due to weather conditions can lead to malnutrition or starvation. Gradually over the years their trees have been cut down for timber and fuel for cooking, and now a lot have disappeared completely.

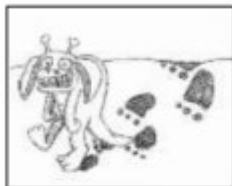

A group started to go to Africa to set up Agro-forestry training to assist farmers to grow trees that will not only help to protect their crops but provide timber for housing, fuel, fodder, edible fruit as well as seeds that they can make flour from. Planting trees will also help the environment. The focus of this amazing group is to continue to train farmers all about long term sustainable improvements in farming so it can help to break the poverty cycle for farmers and their families and make a better life for all.

BRAG UPDATE September 2023

"LET'S GIVE BUNYIP SOMETHING TO BRAG ABOUT!"

OUR VISION: Bunyip and District will become an environmentally sustainable, carbon neutral community

OUR MISSION: To reduce Bunyip and District's carbon footprint.

PROJECT PAIR-UP

Don't forget to bring your lonely plastic containers or plastic lids that have lost their container down to the Bunyip Community Market on the last Sunday of every month and we will try to find their partner amongst containers and lids other people have donated.

Please no lids or containers that are "disposable" (ie old ice cream containers or caterers packs) or have held toxic substances!!

SIMPLY CUPS UPDATE

Thanks to all our community members who have been filling up the IGA dispenser with used take-away coffee cups. Together we have greatly reduced Bunyip and Garfield's contribution to landfill!!

Sadly the funding for this initiative has ended. The monthly fee of $90 to collect the cups from our Pakenham depot and transport them for recycling is currently being covered by the Pakenham Community Garden so the scheme will continue for the time being.

This is not sustainable in the long term.

Cardinia Shire has been approached to assist but have indicated that they would prefer take-away customers to return to using keep-cups (a habit that was broken due to COVID!!)

Clearly this would be the best solution.

BUYING A TAKE-AWAY CUPPA??

BYO KEEP-CUP...PLEASE!!!

BRAG has approached our local coffee shops and they are all happy to continue to offer a discount for customers to encourage us to bring our own cups when buying that take-away cuppa.

BRAG will keep you informed about the future of the Simply Cups collection point at IGA, meantime please try to get back into the habit of using a keep cup!!

BRAG AGM.

BRAG's AGM held on Wednesday 9th of August was very well attended. Members enjoyed a lovely meal provided by Concetta's Take Away café. Some other local people joined us for the meeting at 7pm.

We thank Gerry Cuningham for chairing the election of office bearers.

All office bearers were re-elected unopposed and we welcome 2 new BRAG members to the committee.
